

Dr Nimeri is the director of Metabolic & Bariatric Surgery at Mass General Brigham and Associate Professor of Surgery at Harvard Medical School. Prior to coming to Boston, he was an Associate Professor of Surgery at Wake Forest University school of medicine, chief of Bariatric surgery director of Atrium Health Weight Management and the program director for the bariatric fellowship at Carolinas Medical Center, Atrium Health in Charlotte NC from 2018-2023.

Dr Nimeri serves as the chair of both the ASMBS research committee and the IFSO Ethics committee since 2025 and he is also Co-chaired the ASMBS communication committee 2024-2026. He served as the IFSO secretary/treasurer (2019-2025) & co-chair of the IFSO ethics committee (2019-2025) and served as co-chair (2019-2021) & chair of the IFSO communication committee for two consecutive terms (2013-2019). He is an associate editor for the Obesity Surgery journal and past President of the IFSO MENA chapter (Middle East & North Africa Chapter of the International Federation for Surgery of Obesity 2018-2019) and past president of the Pan Arab Society of Metabolic and Bariatric Surgery (2017-2018) (PASMBS). Dr Nimeri serves on the clinical issues and Diversity & inclusion and research committees of ASMBS and the communication committee of the fellowship council.

Dr Nimeri has more than 130 publications in peer reviewed journals and more than 20 book chapters and has delivered more than 250 national and international presentations.

Dr Nimeri won numerous previous awards including the Abu Dhabi Surgical Distinction award in 2013, IFSO presidential medal in 2017, IFSO president award in 2019 and 2022, best faculty teacher award in 2015, Cleveland Clinic Zielony Nursing Institute's award, Nightingale physician collaboration award in 2017 and the excellence in clinical care award from ASMBS in 2024. Dr Nimeri completed a surgical leadership program at Harvard Medical School, a physician leadership program at Queen's college in Charlotte and a presidential fellowship program at the Brigham & Women's Hospital in Boston. He completed his residency at Huron Hospital Cleveland Clinic in 2004 and fellowship at Washington University in St Louis in 2005.

Dr Nimeri has interests in Minimally Invasive, Upper GI, Bariatric Surgery, Surgical Education and Surgical Quality.

X: @Nimeri_MD